Subject: Reclamation's Indian Policy

Over the past several years, Reclamation has issued a series of policy statements, each concerning different aspects of Reclamation's Indian policy. However, there has been no attempt to meld these into a single document, providing a convenient summary of specific Reclamation policy on issues of interest in Indian country, or consolidate these policies into a single, overarching statement. The attached document is intended to fill this void. It both restates the policies originally enunciated by previous commissioners, as well as more recent policies I have been pleased to have promulgated since taking over as Commissioner. For further information on any of these policies, the documents noted in Attachment 2 should be referenced.
